

4 Ways to Plan Your Future

Try one (or more) of these exercises to get the creative juices flowing. Really dig into the details of what elements show up in your future – what goals have you reached, who is around supporting and interacting with you, what you do in your non-business time.

A Day in the Life

Draw or doodle “A Day in the Life - of a successful genealogist”! How would your time be utilized? What aspects of your life do you need to incorporate to balance life and work?

Legacy

What do you want to be remembered for? What kind of history do you want to leave behind? Write out details of what that looks like.

The 4 Facets

Brainstorm four main areas to see an integrated picture of what you want your future like to look like: Personal, Business, Community, and Home. How do these work together?

Origin Story

Write a story as if you are speaking about yourself 20 years from now. What decisions do you make now to fit into your future self?

For more information on these topics, webinars, and more, visit Shellee Morehead.com

©2022 Shellee Morehead, CG, PhD

